

The Digestive System

Can you correct the SPAG mistakes in this text? There are 15 to find.

Digestion begins when the front teeth, what are called incisors cut up the food into bite-sized peices. Next the molars grind up the food while it mixed with saliva.

Swallowing push's the food down into the oesophagus, then into the stomach. Acid is added their to kill bacteria and muscles squidge and squeeze the food into chyme

The chyme goes threw the small intestine which is really long. All the nutrients from the food go into you're blood then get taken around your body. This is actualy my favorite activity to teach! Did you enjoy it." lisa asked.

The Digestive System

Can you choose the correct homophones to complete the sentences?

The mouth is wear / where / we're chewing takes place.

You must not / knot swallow bits that are to / two / too big!

Each piece / peace of chewed up food is squeezed threw / through the oesophagus, then into the stomach.

Their / There / They're, the food is mixed with acid and churned up.

The small intestine is where nutrients are absorbed into our / are blood.

Finally, the waste / waist is formed into faeces.

Remember to go to the toilet when you knead / need to, sew / so that you don't get constipated.

The Digestive System

SPAG ANSWERS

Digestion begins when the front teeth, which are called incisors, cut up the food into bite-sized pieces. Next, the molars grind up the food while it mixes with saliva. (or 'it is mixed')

Swallowing pushes the food down into the oesophagus, then into the stomach. Acid is added there to kill bacteria and muscles squidge and squeeze the food into chyme.

The chyme goes through the small intestine which is really long. All the nutrients from the food go into your blood then get taken around your body.

“This is actually my favourite activity to teach! Did you enjoy it?” Lisa asked.

The Digestive System

Homophones ANSWERS

The mouth is where chewing takes place. You must not swallow bits that are too big!

Each piece of chewed up food is squeezed through the oesophagus, then into the stomach.

There, the food is mixed with acid and churned up.

The small intestine is where nutrients are absorbed into our blood.

Finally, the waste is formed into faeces.

Remember to go to the toilet when you need to, so that you don't get constipated.