

Bath Bombs & Tablets

Solve the clues to complete the crossword. Then, work out the bonus word made by the letters in circles.

When medicines are being made, tablets are often coated with different colours to help patients tell which tablet is which. In bath bombs, we just use 11 across to look pretty!

Vital details about 16 across, such as warnings & dosage, are printed on the packing and patient information leaflet.

In a medicine, there are accurately measured amounts of the active ingredient. We used drops of 17 across to make the bath bombs smell nice.
